
REHASH: RUN NO. 45 (30th September 1983)

HARES : LOH KAI WOH & SYED ALJUNED

SCRIBE: PHIL YEUTTER

It was a romp through Mount Faber Park. From the car park to the top of the hill then down to the trail that follows above Mount Faber Road. Strangely enough the Hares thought the Pack would choose to run on the trail and climb up and over everything and slide all over the place when in fact there was a nice road to run on just below. Then bck up again and down again to the vicinity of Pender Road. Then we worked our way back up once again to the car park and On In. There were some T-Shirts but NOT enough however! This was supplimented by all the kids on bicycles racing through the On In area. A riot nearly broke out when twenty or thirty of us discovered we were not going to get T-Shirts. No comments are appropriate at all relating this run to the cable car. It took a course in precision navigation to find the ON ON. Fortunately the trail was blazed by a Hashers car in the ditch. On arrival I discovered that the food had already run out. At this point I was so used to adversity that I thought nothing of it. For Loh Kai Woh and Syed Aljunied, you are awarded the barnacle and salt encrusted lead anchor award. You shall receive it at 200 feet in the South China Sea. My mind won't be changed unless a T-Shirt (size 40) comes into my possession. ON ON. Phil Yeutter.
